Dear Yngling Sailors

Having been in the class more than 15 years I am proud to be elected President and grateful for the trust and confidence. A class is formed by the persons in it. I know that around the world there are many devoted and hard working people that with their ideas and creativity are bringing the Class forward. In a shrinking world of cheap shipping and flights I am sure that we can continue to develop the core of our class; True international keel boat racing.

I can not imagine a better place than Sydney 2012 for my first Worlds as a President. The Pre Regattas and The Championship was outstanding and the entire organisation of Race Committee, Jury and Measurement have set a new standard for how we want things to be done. The Australian Yngling Association together with the Royal Sydney Yacht Squadron and all the Partners organized everything from youth programs, housing and charter boats so successful that we saw one of the largest overseas fleets ever in an Yngling Worlds. Besides excellent racing the social activities at the yacht club and around the city made for adventures and created connections and long lasting friendship around the globe.

Living in Europe you sometimes forget what a struggle it can be to leave the continent to go racing. This is what many of our friends overseas do almost every year. For all those who experienced the perfect Australian hospitality I ask that you return the favour in future Championships in Europe, expanding the fleet even further. A good charter boat program and shipping connections are vital.

Many successful sponsorships connections have been made by various national Yngling Associations the last year. We are not a class driven by commercial interests but our values of international keel boat racing with equal conditions for young and old, women and men are attractive. Keep these connections alive and keep developing them!

Whether you are reading this on a screen or in printed format I am glad that the 25+ year tradition of the Yngling Magazine continues in a more modern version. It is and will always be the Magazine for Yngling Sailors and their friends world wide. Together with our website and other social media we are well covered in spreading information to our members and others.

The Yngling Class have a good tradition that many of our Class Officers are also active sailors. I encourage that trend and I'm sure it is to the benefit of the class. So for the coming season I wish you the best of luck and hope to see you all on the race course.

Yngling in Sweden

The Yngling Class in Sweden is most active in the south where the Danish tradition of club owned Ynglings have spilled over to the east. The Club Ynglings are used for everything from school boat for youth and adults to racing in the clubs evening series or even daytime handicap-rating regattas. A few go on to one design racing.

2-3 person keel boat is a segment where you have many national classes in Sweden. The competition is strong and many crews are sailing in many different classes. The strength of the Yngling Class is that it is international and can offer true international racing and competition outside Sweden.

The Yngling Championships are well organized events and by promoting them in the right way and with the right support of charter boat etc I'm sure we can attract good sailors that want to try something new.

Having Denmark and Norway close where you have frequent Yngling regattas and a good second hand market is also positive.

Worlds Wrap Up

It was an exciting two weeks of racing over the Christmas break with the Open and Youth Gold Cup regattas followed by the 2012 Open World Championship.

With the event bringing together the largest fleet of Ynglings for a World Championship outside of Europe, it was a big fleet of 43 boats from 9 countries on our Harbour. 16 boats were shipped from overseas with many more chartering Ynglings not otherwise sailed.

The regattas were also an excellent opportunity for the RSYS youth teams to experience big fleet racing with the support of coaches and rescue boats for when the weather got a bit wild.

A fleet of 32 Ynglings contested the Open Championship and Youth Gold Cup series, sailing eight races over three days in excellent conditions on the Harbour. A fleet of 45 has entered for the Worlds.

The outcome of the Open Championship as a lead-up to the Worlds was a triumph for Sydney fleet sailor Michael Nash, sailing Slam, who won the final race to clinch an overall victory with a net 18 points. The Australian champion's scorecard for the series was a consistent 2-2-3-4-6-2-4-1, giving him a clear winning margin. An OCS in the final heat prevented current world champion Maarten Jamin, sailing Nynke from The Netherlands, any chance of beating Nash. The scorecard of Jamin, a dual world champion, was 8-6-2-2-7-3-2-OCS to finish with 30 points. Third place overall went to another dual world champion from The Netherlands, Tom Otte, sailing Meyke, who finished on 37 points, while an impressive fourth was the Dutch youth crew on Mass & Roer, skippered by Anne-Christianne Kentgens who won two heats to finish on 39 points. Next best of the Sydney fleet boats was Miss Pibb, skippered by Hamish Jarrett, who won the first race but slipped back to place fifth overall on 48 points.

Dutch youth team of Anne-Christianne Kentgens, Robert-Jan Kentgens and Michel Peulen won the Youth Gold Cup. Lachlan Doyle, Callum Thompson and David Williamson were the first of the Australian youth teams coming 5th.

International Yngling World Championship was held from 2nd to 8th January.

Only three points separated the first three boats at the end of a magnificent regatta to decide the 2012 World Championship, with victory going to defending champion, Maarten Jamin, from The Netherlands.

Jamin, a dual World Champion, finished with 40 points, two points clear of fellow countryman Tom Otte on 42 points, with one point to third placegetter, Australian champion Michael Nash on 43 points. Nash had led the series going into the final race.

The demanding regatta comprised ten close and intensive races over four days in conditions that ranged from light and flukey easterly breezes to a full on north-easterly sea breeze on the final day.

Jamin and Nash went into the final day of competition equal on 30 points. In race nine, a second place to Nash and a fifth to Jamin put the Australian three points ahead going into the 10th and final race that afternoon. But Nash and his crew of Mel Nathan and Greg Hartnett dropped to an 11th in the decider, costing them the World Championship. With only one discard race, Nash already had a 13th place and was forced to carry the 11th.

1st, 2nd and 3rd places at the 2012 Open Championship with Christian Brook, RSYS Club Captain

Youth Gold Cup winners, Michel Peulen, Anne-Christianne Kentgens and Robert-Jan Kentgens

In contrast, Jamin, with Jaap Smolders and Menno Berens as crew, maintained his consistency with another fifth place in the final race, sufficient to give them the 2012 World Championship by two points. Otte and his crew of Diederik Kuilers and Reinier Tromp made a determined bid for another World title, with a 3-2 result on the final day, beating Nash by one point for second place.

The final two races went to Australian Matt Whitnall and crew of Rob Bishop and Michael Bishop, lifting him to sixth overall. Fellow Australian Hamish Jarrett, who had been an early leader, finished fourth overall, while another Dutch competitor, Anne-Christianne Kentgens, placed fifth overall in an impressive series by the young sailor. The racing was enjoyed by many out on the spectator boats. A big thank you goes to Jeff Jarrett on Catnappa, Gary Cassidy, Dennis Galvin and Tom Fleming on Crackerjack and Jake Selinger on DJ2 for making their boats available and taking out spectators to watch the racing.

... and of course there was the entertainment. The competitors and friends were treated to three nights of superb dinner functions, as well as country parties every other night. The RSYS kindly donated some food to be enjoyed with the beverages which each country provided as a symbol of their nations.

Of course we can't forget our fantastic volunteers. A big thank you to those people who helped with measuring, staffing the office, driving the rescue boats, helping with our spectator fleet, and billeting our overseas guests. It was great to see our "Yngling Family" come together and swing into action to help make a great event.

Finally, special mention must go to the sponsors without whom we would not have had the event. Control Plus Australia, Selingers, Zi-Argus, NSW Sport & Recreation and HLP Controls.

Last but not least, a big thank you to our Event Committee and Event Co ordinator – Chris Harper, who spent many years in planning and organising this event.

So now we move into the second half of the Squadron Racing calendar, and into the Sesqui-Centennial year. With other great events such as the Sydney Harbour Regatta and Yngling European Championship in Denmark and we look forward to more exciting racing.

German Report

The season started with the first day of the annual international watersports fair, the "Boat" in Düsseldorf.

Paul Niemayer, former President and Honorary Chairman of the German Yngling association died in May 2011. Thanks to his outstanding activities, also on an international level, he made many friends.

During the celebration of the traditional "Grünkohl" meal in the rooms of the WSV Rh Duisburg, the best crews were honored. The top position reached was Thorsten Schutt, GER 1, second was Heiner Gert, GER 261 and third, Ralf Teichmann, GER 277.

The crews used the meeting to plan the activities for the beginning season.

The first regatta took place at the Aue See in Wesel during the Easter holidays. Fine sunshine and good winds supported the competition.

Further regattas were at the "Sechs Seen Platte" in Duisburg, the "Lohheider See", also in Duisburg, the "Baldeney See" in Essen and the "Leopolshafener Baggersee" in Eggenstein – Leopoldshafen.

For the first time the WSV Rh Duisburg offered two days of special training for regatta sailors. Many participants enjoyed the good organization of this training, impressed by the highly experienced trainers.

Several teams participated in the Open Springtime European Championship in Riva del Garda, Italy, and five teams participated in the 2011 World Championship at Attersee in Austria. An outstanding third position was achieved by GER 1 with Thorsten Schutt, Claudia Weber and Kai Morwinski.

For active female sailors there were two Ladies Cups at the "Lohheider See". Typical of this type of event is that the ladies have their fun with sailing, while the males are responsible for the service and kitchen duties.

In November the annual meeting of the class association took place in the rooms of the WSK in Wesel.

When winter time has already started in Germany and most of the sailors have already parked their ships on the ground, there is the "Nikolausregatta" at the "Lohheider See" in Duisburg; in 2011 there was top participation with twenty boats! There were also teams from the Netherlands and Belgium. As soon as the day is finished, the sailors meet in the fine decorated club rooms for "Glühwein" and a good meal.

Later with the "Grünkohlessen" in January of the following year they'll meet again.

2011 Yngling North American Championship, OYC, August 11-14, 2011

Luke Ingalls won the 2011 Yngling North American Championships while celebrating his 12th birthday. Sailing with his father, John, and brother, Cob, the Ingalls team had strong 1-2-1 finishes on the final day of racing in 15-20 knot wind conditions, squeaking out a victory over "uncle" Bruce Chafee, Melody Badgett and Ben Diamond. Sailing in his first Yngling regatta he became the 4th Ingalls to win the North American Championship, following in the wake of mother Ellie, dad John, and sister Noel.

Luke, Cob and John Ingalls

22 teams competed in the 36th anniversary regatta with excellent conditions, though racing was in doubt as a 50-60 knot squall roared through the fleet in the early morning hours tearing 7 Ynglings from their moorings and throwing them on the rocks. Alpena Youth Sailing Team members were the first on the scene, showing leadership and courage to save the boats. Racing went off on schedule with all boats able to compete in 12 knot winds.

The "best-of-the-rest" and 3rd place went to Steve Wilson, sailing with brother, Pete Wilson, and niece, Erin Wilson, beating out arch rival Mark Upham sailing with wife, Karen and Parker Wedge. Jock McDonald and his crew, Michael and Elizabeth Johnson were 5th. The fleet welcomed 3 all youth teams with Maddy Kennedy, Adam Siegel, and Ian Solum winning the Alpena Cup for highest finishing youth team and 8th place overall and Courtney Marshall, Colin Marshall and Hannah Thayer finishing 18th overall and 2nd highest youth team. Pete Ankeny won the newly established Master's Cup (over 70 skipper) with a 6th place overall.

Measurer's Report

Youth Gold Cup and Open World Championship, Sydney 2011/2012

Although we experienced wet conditions leading up to the regatta, the weather was fine with a good steady wind.

Measurement started early with the collection of the overseas boats from Port Botany and towing them to the squadron in Kirribilli. Karen Gojnick, Michael Nash assisted Bryan Riddell and myself in the exercise.

Measurement check in started at the regatta office just above the hard stand and was manned by Chris and Jan Harper, Sue Selinger and Fiona Herbert, their thorough checking of the documents made for a smooth transition to the physical measuring.

The measurement took place in 3 locations within the grounds of the Squadron.

The Milson Room, named after one of our early commercial pioneers was used for sail measure. The catering staff assembled enough tables to support our 7m x 3m mylar sail template. The team was headed up by the german IM Christian Dylla and assisted by David Thompson with very little fuss.

The hard stand area with the 2 cranes was used for the safety checks, selective measuring and weighing. Jake Selinger, John Roxburg, Peter Curran and Danish Per Thorshoj took the leading roles and were supported with several local people and Lars Bakker from Sweden who appreciated the opportunity as he is gaining valuable experience for his application to become an IM. While there was a large number of boats chartered by overseas teams and local teams the boats presented for measure were well prepared and all credit should go to the skippers and crew for their diligence.

The distance between hardstand, crane and moorings were close and it made for a good overall result.

The club members locker room was cleared out and provided an excellent location for mast measuring as it was close to the hardstand and cranes and provided the opportunity for sail measuring and mast measuring to be carried out concurrently. Peter Lowndes lead the team with Jim Brown and provided excellent scrutiny over the masts with help and advice, especially the masts with tip weight problems.

The on water inspections were carried out and the sailors co-operated to achieve this in some times blustery conditions. Only one on water incident was serious when one of the Australian boats AUS 58 was holed by DEN 199 above the water line, a good application of duct tape and an urgent repair by the Squadron boat shed kept the boat sailing to the end of the regatta.

When we were taking the boats back to Port Botany, we were able to talk to the crews about their overall impression of the regatta and Sydney and the universal comment was the hospitality was unbelievable, which is a great comment to receive.
